DOING
International Festival on Contemporary Performing Arts

Bologna 24 March - 12 April 2003

The third edition of the festival curated by Xing and dedicated to the latest forms of contemporary performing arts, will take place from March 24th to April 12th in different locations in Bologna.

After CORPO SOTTILE (2001) and NON IO (2002) - this year's edition of the festival, changing title and subject to underline the mobility in its research - will include performances, shows, events, films and installations, focusing on innovative languages in the field of the performing arts.

'DOING' has an open meaning, giving voice to a range of artistic productions selected among the most open to the crossover between different means of expression, such as dance, theatre, visual arts. Some of them show a certain amount of humor, other a sense of mystery of the everyday.

DOING will not give answers: instead it aims to present a sort of 'potential theatre' open to different interpretations.
